ROBERT WAYNE AND ELLA MARIE VEIGEL'S RESPONSE TO MOTION TO WITHDRAW

TO THE HONORABLE JUDGE:

COME NOW, Plaintiffs Robert Wayne and Ella Marie Veigel, on a limited pro se basis, and would show the Court as follows:

Plaintiffs' counsel of record, Keleher & McLeod, P.A. (Jeffery Dahl and Justin Breen) and the Law Office of Philip Roland Russ (Philip Russ) (together "Plaintiffs' Attorneys") have filed a Motion to Withdraw As Counsel (Dkt. #53) citing unspecified "irreconcilable differences" to such an extent that the Plaintiffs' Attorneys can no longer serve as Plaintiffs' counsel.

Plaintiffs Robert Wayne and Ella Marie Veigel (together "Movants") oppose the Motion to Withdraw and have made a pro se request of the Court to consent and allow Movants to file a Motion for In Camera Review of Protected Attorney – Client

Documents as Movants (and other Plaintiffs) have been unable to retain new counsel as ordered by the Court (Dkt. #58) despite diligent efforts.

Although the Plaintiffs have had differences of opinion with Plaintiffs' Attorneys, Plaintiffs have always deferred to Plaintiffs' Attorneys' professional advice. As such, there are no "irreconcilable differences" between Plaintiffs and Plaintiffs' Attorneys or is there any other valid justification for Plaintiffs' Attorneys to be allowed to abandon and prejudice their clients particularly at this late stage of the litigation and Plaintiffs' significant investment of time, effort, and scarce financial resources.

Furthermore, the Motion to Withdraw does not comply with applicable rules of professional conduct and local rules of the Court. As stated in American Resource Technologies v. Oden (Memorandum Opinion and Order Dkt. #61, N.D. TX December 8, 2014):

... [A]ttorneys may not withdraw as counsel of record until certain requirements are satisfied. Ultimately, the question of whether these requirements have been met such that withdrawal is warranted is "entrusted to the sound discretion of the [trial] court. . . ." In re Wynn, 889 F.2d 644, 646 (5th Cir. 1989)(citation and quotation marks omitted).

The first withdrawal requirement is that attorneys may only withdraw "upon leave of the court and a showing of good cause and reasonable notice to the client." Id. In deciding whether good cause exists, the Court references Rule 1.15(b) of the Texas Disciplinary Rules of Professional Conduct, which has been adopted in this District through Local Rule 83.8(e). See White v. BAC Home Loans Servicing, LP, No. 309-CV-2484-G, 2010 WL 2473833, at *2 (N.D. Tex. June 15, 2010). This rule provides "six specific situations in which a lawyer has good cause to voluntarily withdraw"<sup>2</sup> and "a seventh, catch-all provision that allows an attorney to withdraw where 'other good cause for withdrawal exists.'" Id. (citing TEX. DISCIP. R. PROF'L CONDUCT 1.15(b)(1)-(7)).

Even if "good cause for withdrawal exists, it is 'incumbent on the court to assure that the prosecution of the lawsuit before it is not disrupted by the withdrawal of counsel.'" Denton v. Suter, No. 3:11-CV-2559-N, 2013 WL 5477155, at *2 (N.D. Tex. Oct. 2, 2013) (quoting Broughten v. Voss, 634

F.2d 880, 882 (5th Cir.1981)). Thus, courts typically consider a number of other factors when determining whether to allow an attorney to withdraw. See id.; White, 2010 WL 2473833, at *2-3. Chief among these factors are “undue delay in the proceedings, prejudice to the client, and the interests of justice.” Dorsey v. Portfolio Equities, Inc., No. CIV.A.3:04-CV-0472-B, 2008 WL 4414526, at *2 (N.D. Tex. Sept. 29, 2008) (citing Broughten, 634 F.2d at 882; Honda Power Equip., Mfg., Inc. v. Woodhouse, 219 F.R.D. 2, 6 (D.D.C. 2003)).

Third and finally, a withdrawing attorney in this District must also comply with Local Rule 83.12. See Denton, 2013 WL 5477155, at *1. Where, as here, “the identity of the succeeding attorney is not known,” Local Rule 83.12 mandates that “the withdrawing attorney must file a motion that: (1) specifies the reasons requiring withdrawal; (2) sets forth the client's name, address, and telephone number; and (3) ‘either bear[s] the client's signature approving withdrawal or state[s] specifically why, after due diligence, the attorney was unable to obtain the client's signature.’” Id. (quoting N.D. TEX. L. CIV. R. 83.12(a)) (brackets in original). ...

... Such vague and conclusory assertions are not enough to satisfy Movants’ burden. See, e.g., White, 2010 WL 2473833, at *3 (“The court has not uncovered a single case in which counsel was permitted to withdraw over his client's objection on the strength of nothing more than a conclusory, unsworn, single-sentence assertion.”).

The Motion to Withdraw does not show any good cause for withdraw particularly at this late prejudicial stage in the proceedings after significant investment of time, effort, and scarce financial resources by the Plaintiffs and where Plaintiffs have always deferred to Plaintiffs’ Attorneys advise in all disagreements. The Motion to Withdraw does not and cannot show 1) that withdraw can be accomplished without material adverse effect on the interest of the clients; 2) a client persists in any course of action involving the lawyer’s services that the lawyer reasonable believes to be criminal or fraudulent; 3) clients have used the lawyers’ services to perpetuate a crime or fraud; 4) clients have insisted upon pursuing an objective that the lawyer considers repugnant or imprudent or which the lawyer has fundamental disagreement; 5) that the clients has substantially failed any obligation to the lawyers; 6) continued representation would pose an unreasonable financial burden or made unreasonably difficult by the client; or 7) that there has been a complete breakdown in communications

Further, the Motion to Withdraw 1) does not specify the reasons for withdraw other than unspecified “irreconcilable differences” which Movants dispute; 2) does not set forth the clients’ names, addresses, and telephone numbers; 3) does not state specifically why, after due diligence the attorney was unable to obtain the clients’ signature.

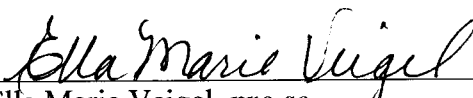

Therefore, Movants request that the Court deny the Motion to Withdraw or otherwise conduct an in camera review of the documents provided by the Appendix to Movants’ motion for an in camera review in support of Movants’ opposition to the Motion to Withdraw in such a manner that honors and protects Movants’ privileged attorney – client information to ensure that such privilege cannot be deemed waived by the Defendant.

PRAYER

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Movants pray that the Court deny the Motion to Withdraw, and for such and further relief that may be awarded at law or in equity.

Respectfully submitted,
